Thank You, Kay!

The Liturgy Office would like to extend our heartfelt thanks to Kay Agustin as she begins her retirement.

For many years, Kay has been an invaluable member of our parish staff and a steady presence behind the scenes. Her organization, dedication and attention to detail helped keep countless liturgies, ministries and music programs running smoothly. Through transitions between directors and changing seasons of parish life, Kay provided consistency, wisdom and support that benefited staff, volunteers and parishioners alike.

While Kay often worked quietly in the background, her impact was felt throughout the parish. From coordinating schedules and supporting volunteers to keeping the many moving parts of liturgical life in order, she helped make possible so much of what happens each week at St. Thomas. We are deeply grateful for her years of faithful service and the care she brought to her work.

Although she is retiring from her staff role, we are delighted that Kay will remain an active part of our parish community. Please join us in thanking Kay for her many contributions and in wishing her and her husband, Ed, many happy, healthy and grace-filled years of retirement.

C.A.R.E CORNER

Jesus said he came down from heaven, not to do his own will, but to do the will of God who sent him (see John 6:38). The gospel of John further clarifies in 6:40: "For this is the will of my Father, that everyone who sees the Son and believes in him may have eternal life ..." What does it take to do the will of God, for which the reward is eternity with the Divine? It takes humility, receptivity and simplicity, which seem to come naturally to children (see Matthew 18:4).

Jesus was not saying we should all start acting very childish. We don't need God's help to do that – we're very good at doing that on our own. He was saying we need to become child-like. Children are naturally curious; they bring awe and wonder to all things new; they recognize their dependence on others; and they are open to learning and being led. It seems this is what Jesus wanted his disciples to be, because "the kingdom of God belongs to" children (Mark 10:14). This is why Jesus said "whoever does the will of God ... " is my family. (Mark 3:35) If we are truly a part of God's family, shouldn't we bear some resemblance to our Divine Parent?

Prayer for Selection of a New Bishop

Although a specific timeframe is unknown, a new bishop will eventually be selected for the Diocese of Joliet.

In this time of waiting,
we can actively pray ...

Gracious and loving God, you shepherd your Church with wisdom and care.

*In this time of waiting,
we place our diocese into your hands as a new bishop is chosen.*

*Send your Holy Spirit upon all entrusted with this decision.
Grant them wisdom, courage and hearts attentive to your will.*

*Raise up a shepherd who will lead with humility and compassion,
who will listen before speaking,
who will walk with the people
entrusted to his care,
and who will proclaim the Gospel
with faithfulness and hope.*

*May our new bishop
be a voice for justice,
a servant of unity,
a comfort to the wounded,
and a witness to the love of Christ
for all people.*

*As we wait, keep us rooted in prayer,
open to the movement of your Spirit,
and united as one Church.*

We ask this through Christ our Lord.

Amen.

Pope Leo XIV, His New Encyclical, and Catholic Social Teaching

Catholic Social Teaching is the body of Church teaching that applies the Gospel and the teachings of Jesus to social, economic and political life. It emphasizes the dignity of every human person and calls Catholics to work for justice, peace, care for creation and the common good, especially on behalf of those who are poor or marginalized.

Pope Leo's first encyclical, Magnifica Humanitas ("Magnificent Humanity"), is a major development in Catholic Social Teaching because it applies the Church's long-standing social principles to the age of artificial intelligence and digital technology. Just as Pope Leo XIII addressed the Industrial Revolution and workers' rights, Pope Leo XIV is addressing the 'digital revolution' of AI, algorithms, surveillance, and automation.

Some of the major themes include:

- Human dignity comes first
- Technology is not neutral
- Concern for workers and inequality
- The common good over private power
- Solidarity and human relationships
- Catholic Social Teaching is dynamic

In his encyclical, the pope does not reject technology. Instead, he calls Catholics to approach AI ethically and thoughtfully, knowing that human compassion, conscience and spiritual wisdom can never be replaced by machines. Even in a world shaped by artificial intelligence, we are called to be people of wisdom, mercy and hope.

Magnifica Humanitas can be found at <https://www.vatican.va/content/leo-xiv/en/encyclicals/documents/20260515-magnifica-humanitas.html>.

Pope Leo XIV Offers Apology for Church's Role in Slavery

In his first encyclical, Magnifica Humanitas (Magnificent Humanity), Pope Leo XIV issued a historic apology for the Catholic Church's role in legitimizing slavery and for failing to condemn it sooner. Calling slavery "a wound in Christian memory," the pope acknowledged that past Church leaders and institutions at times supported or tolerated systems of human bondage.

Previous popes had apologized for the actions of individual Christians involved in the slave trade, but Pope Leo went further by recognizing the role some Vatican documents played in giving European powers authority to enslave non-Christians during the colonial era.

The pope writes, "It is impossible not to feel deep sorrow when contemplating the immense suffering and humiliation endured by so many in stark contrast to their immeasurable dignity as persons infinitely loved by the Lord. For this, in the name of the Church, I sincerely ask for pardon."

This is an important step toward truth, reconciliation and a deeper commitment to justice rooted in the Gospel.

Update from Fr. Frantzdy

During a May 20 conversation, Fr. Frantzdy shared an update on the situation in Duchity as well as news about his health. The key points are summarized below:

Health Concerns

Fr. Frantzdy continues to experience persistent back pain. Because of the pain, it is difficult for him to stand up straight. He needs to travel to Port-au-Prince for a medical scan, but travel to Port au Prince is dangerous. He estimates that the scan will cost $700 and travel could run as high as $500-$600.

Security Situation

When asked about the situation in Haiti, Fr. Frantzdy said it is hard to tell if it is better or worse. There are still gang-related kidnapping cases. Even though these problems are far from Duchity, the situation affects the whole country because of the lack of safe travel to and through Port au Prince. People live with the uncertainty of not knowing what the future holds and it is very stressful.

Education in Duchity

Final exams are being held in June. Seventeen students are graduating. If the parents can afford the cost, some of these students will go on to university. With the end of the school year, the lunch program for the students ends as there are not funds to continue it through the summer months.

Concerns About Abuse

Fr. Frantzdy spoke at length about his desire to provide abuse-prevention training for the young women of Duchity. He would like to include the young women from Duchity and also from the surrounding 'chapel areas'. This would mean providing meals and a place to stay. This would cost approximately $30/person. Fr. Frantzdy estimates that 150 young women would attend.

Please continue to keep Fr. Frantzdy and the people of Duchity in your prayers. Fr. Frantzdy ended the conversation by saying, "Be assured of my humble prayers. You are angels to me."
